Pipers, Beaten, Face Final Tilt

Yellowhammers Doped to Win Friday's Game; Fans Hail Pipers' Playing

Once-beaten Hamlin Pied Pipers prepared this week to face the once-beaten Rotan Yellowhammers in their annual Armistice Day clash, with the Pipers rated definitely as underdogs.

The Pipers, unbeaten and un-tied until last week, ran into trouble they could not surmount when they faced a heavier Colorado City team on the home field of the Wolves.

Colorado City turned back the Hamlinites 33 to 6 following a hard-played game. The Pipers, relying on the passing of Joe Allen eDan, in the offensive, failed to hold back the heavier Wolves in their repeated drives to the Piper goal lines.

Hamlin's passes failed to connect in many instances, and this is blamed with having contributed to the defeat of the Pipers.

Last Friday's loss threw the Pipers into a tie with Colorado City for second place, and left Rotan, unbeaten in district games, in undisputed possession of top position.

In the game slated for Friday, the time has been changed from 2:30 to 2:00 o'clock. Coach Red Burditt said this week.

The Yellowhammers took an unexpected victory from the Roby Lions last Thursday evening 32 to 12.

Colorado City is slated to play the strong Merkel Badgers in Friday's

All Business Houses To Be Closed Friday

All business houses in Hamlin will be closed throughout the day, Friday, November 11, in observance of Armistice Day.

The public is invited to witness the parade of all ex-service men and women down Central Avenue from the north at 10 a. m., and to attend memorial services in the High School auditorium at 11 o'clock.

Roger Q. Garrett, county judge, will be principal speaker at the memorial service, and Rev. Howard Smith, Nazarene pastor, will give the invocation.

Most Hamlinites will go to Rotan for the football game at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, when the Pied Pipers will meet the Rotan Yellowhammers for the last game of the season.

Contract Pends For Erection of Street Markers

A. G. Irwin, president of the Lions Club, and Pat Marlow, president of the Rotary Club, were negotiating this week for a contract for erecting street markers in Hamlin.

It is believed the work of installing the markers will get underway sometime next week, Irwin said.

Lowest bid on erecting the street names was $1.50 per marker, with an additional cost for putting up those in downtown Hamlin, where it will be necessary to drill into the concrete sidewalks.

Irwin and Marlow requested the city of Hamlin to undertake erection of the markers, in a conference this week with Mayor Tolar.

The mayor told them, Irwin said, that the city does not have sufficient money for the purpose, and cannot spare the manpower needed if city employees were to be used.

A mixup on numbers, which have not yet been sold, occurred this week when two bags of numbers were misplaced. Irwin, who was supposed to have been given all remaining unsold numbers, said those for several blocks had not yet been turned over to him.

It is hoped to have the markers ready for final inspection by the postal department for possible inauguration of the city mail delivery before Christmas.

game. If the Wolves suffer defeat in that contest, and the Pipers lose to Rotan, the Pipers will hold second place in the district.

A win by the Pipers against Rotan, and a win by Colorado City, would put Hamlin, Rotan and the Wolves in a three-way tie for top honors in 6-A West. Final decision would be made by officials of the district, who would select one of the teams to represent the district in play-off competition.

Burditt said this week the Pipers are in first class condition for the big contest Friday, and he plans to have his starting lineup the same as that for last week.

Hundreds of Hamlin fans are planning to go to Rotan Friday afternoon for the game, and those in charge of Armistice Day observance here have promised to get the formalities over in time to permit all to attend to make the game.

Automobile Stolen on City Street Monday

A Kaiser automobile belonging to Luther Marr was stolen from a parking place on South Central Avenue sometime late Monday, J. H. Foster, city marshall, said.

Marr had parked his car and removed the keys from the ignition lock, Foster said, but thieves are believed to have wired around the switch.

A car answering the description of the Marr machine was discovered abandoned near Hawley later in the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry McCoy have returned to their home in Lubbock after having visited relatives in Hamlin.

Hamlin's Officers Had Busy Week End

Hamlin's law enforcement officers had the busiest week end in many years last Saturday and Sunday, J. H. Foster, city marshall, said.

"We had fights and disturbances and drunks and traffic violations, and almost every petty law violation," Foster said.

The marshall does not believe last week end marks any unusual growth of lawlessness here, but attributed the extra work of his department to the influx of cotton pickers and the large amount of money that is in circulation during the cotton season.

McMurry Concert Put $750. in Band Fund

More than $750. will be added to the uniform fund for Hamlin High School band by money contributed for admissions to the McMurry College band concert here Tuesday evening. Walter Chalcraft, band director, said.

The Lions Club, which undertook the task of selling $200 worth of tickets, voted to pay that amount whether tickets were sold or not. Chalcraft said. Approximately $320. was taken in at the door and in sales by band members.

An estimated additional $230. will be turned in by the Rotary Club and ticket sellers at Celotex.

Chalcraft said some other plan will be announced after close of football season for raising the remainder needed. He estimated that uniforms will cost $2,500.

Two Fined in Attack On Hamlin Resident

Fines of $17.50 each were paid in county court this week by Gilbert Buhur, brothers, when they entered pleas of guilty to charges of aggravated assault on a Hamlin man.

The two were accused of having assaulted Pete Scott on a downtown street last Saturday, according to J. H. Foster, city marshall.

Cotton Growers of County to Vote December 15 on Allotment Program

Cotton growers in every cotton growing county of Texas will vote December 15 in a referendum ordered by the State Production and Marketing Administration, according to Eugene C. Gainous, county secretary.

The election was called following a proclamation of Charles F. Brannan, secretary of Agriculture, in which he announced a national cotton allotment of 21,000,000 acres for 1950.

Gainous said the national allotment will be broken down into allotments for states, counties and farms, and that efforts will be made to obtain needed figures from individual farmers before individual farmers before date for the referendum.

Normal supply, he explained, is the amount needed to take care of domestic and export needs, plus 30 per cent. The law also places a 21,000,000 acre minimum on the national acreage for 1950. This acreage at average yields will produce 11,733,000 bales, which is the marketing quota for 1950.

Total supply of cotton for the current marketing year is estimated at 20,859,000 running bales and the normal supply is 16,250,000 bales. Included in the normal supply figure is an estimated 8,000,000 bales for domestic consumption, 4,500,000 bales for export and a 30 per cent carryover of 3,750,000 bales.

Several locations for wells were staked in the Hamlin area during the past week, and others recently completed were gauged for potential production.

Activity throughout most of the area during the past week was routine, with no sensational developments reported, oil men said Thursday.

General Crude Oil Company has filed application to drill the No. 4 W. H. Jackson, et al., a north offset to Round Top production, seven miles west of Hamlin.

The well seeks permit for 4,800 feet and will drill with rotary.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company, has staked the No. 7 Pardue Account 1 as a northwest offset to the Pardue-Toler discovery well. The test is on permit for 5,000 feet.

Texas Pacific also has filed for permit to drill the No. 4 Fort H. Williams, a southeast offset to the discovery well. This test is slated for 3,800 feet with rotary.

Ungren and Frazier, et al., have completed the No. 1 E. E. Farnsworth as a north offset to the Gun-sight discovery well south of Hamlin in the Boyd Chapel district.

The well, on official gauge, produced 103.56 barrels of 40 gravity oil in eight hours. Flow was through quarter-inch choke at 3,160-62 feet. Total depth is 3,299 feet.

"We expect to catch up with our zinnings within the next two or three weeks," he said.

Students Make Trip To Visit Sweetwater

Led by John Holland, recently elected president of the student council of Hamlin High School, a group of students and B. V. Newberry, principal, visited Sweetwater schools Tuesday to attend a session of the student council there.

The local student council is made up of the presidents and secretaries of each of the five classes. Following the visit with the Sweetwater organization, the local council will be fully organized within a few days.

Those who made the trip, in addition to Newberry and Holland, are Wayne Daniels, Patsy Parker, Don Johnson, Dorothy Altum, Jim Harwell, Sarah Jean, Joe Ray Rosenbaum, Aline Reynolds, and Robert Angel.

Working of constructing grade and drainage on the Hamlin-Neinda road is expected to get underway soon. Roger Q. Garrett, county judge, said this week.

The work will be done by the State Highway department, Garrett said.

As soon as the grading is completed the road will be blacktopped to provide an all weather highway from that community to Hamlin.

Sale of Poppies to Be Continued Friday

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary of Hamlin will continue sale of paper poppies Friday, November 11, immediately preceding the Armistice Day parade, it was voted at a meeting Monday night.

The sale was started last Saturday, but because the poppies did not arrive until late in the afternoon, it was voted to resume selling the flowers Friday.

The local chapter also voted to send a Christmas box to disabled veterans in the Waco VA hospital.

Dr. Smith Will Join Hamlin Hospital Staff

Dr. LeRoy Smith of Dimmitt will join the staff of Hamlin Memorial Hospital about December 15, it was announced this week by Dr. E. J. Hawkins, of the staff.

Dr. Smith, a medical school graduate of Dr. Hawkins, is expected to come here December 1 to sign a contract. He told Dr. Hawkins this week that he would announce his resignation from his present position within a few days.

Mexican, Negro Held for Knife Fight Saturday

James Holland, about 55, Hamlin Negro, and Joe Lujan, about 40, Mexican, are under medical treatment this week for knife wounds suffered in an altercation in Hamlin's Negro section late last Saturday night, according to J. H. Foster, city marshal.

The fight is said to have taken place shortly after midnight after the two had engaged in intermittent quarreling for several hours. Foster said they had been drinking, but were not considered "drunk."

Charges of aggravated assault were filed in county court against both participants Monday, but neither had been arrested early this week. Foster said they would be arrested and arraigned as soon as they were released from medical care.

Lujan received serious knife wounds and was taken to Stamford Sanitarium, where several blood transfusions were necessary.

Holland received a deep gash on his neck and several minor cuts about the upper part of his body. He was given treatment at Hamlin Memorial Hospital.

Youth Revival Will Begin Here Sunday

A "youth revival" is scheduled to begin Sunday morning, November 13 in the Hamlin Baptist Church. Rev. A. R. Posey, pastor, said this week.

The two gins had processed a total of 5,823 bales prior to Thursday, and approximately 200 bales were standing in the gin yards waiting their turn.

Elmo Bellah, manager of the Producers Gin, said some of his customers have told him they expect to complete their cotton harvests within a week or 10 days.

"We expect to catch up with our zinnings within the next two or three weeks," he said.

A Pledge Unkept

"To you from failing hands we throw
 The torch; be yours to hold it high.
 If ye break faith with us who die
 We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
 In Flanders fields."

Those words written by one who had faced the screaming hell of a battlefield, and who, himself, soon was to have his body laid beneath the popped soil of Flanders, burst upon the hearts of war-wearied Americans like a benediction.

They expressed the thoughts that had gripped the minds of peace-loving peoples in all the world for years. And as they were read in the dismal days of the first world war, pledges went up to God that faith with those who died would be kept.

And shortly after those lines appeared—just 31 years ago today—the whole world went mad with delirious joy as the message of a war's ending circled the globe. Fathers and mothers, whose hearts had known fear and anguish, felt anew the reassuring warmth of future promise. Young men and women, whose future had seemed so dark, found anew the pleasure of planning.

We were told that this had been a "war to end all wars," and we were told that this was a great crusade for human rights—a fight to make the world "safe for democracy."

Those platitudes were accepted by a naive public at their face value, and the world embarked upon what was hailed as a period of perpetual peace.

And then, suddenly, breaking like a storm upon the calm of a summer evening, the flames of a new holocaust engulfed mankind. The first World War became only a prelude to the greater carnage that hurled millions of young men into bloody oblivion.

This new slaughter began a short 21 years after the close of the "war to end all wars." And now, less than five years after V-J day, the embers of national passion seem on the verge of erupting into flame once again.

Somewhere, somehow, we have not kept the faith. Can it be that the greed and crudity of mankind has blinded our eyes to the greater worth of spiritual values? Have we become so imbued with material gain that we have neglected to develop the finer traits of our national character?

There is an answer, and a simple one. It is an answer that will work on an international scale, but first it must be adopted on an individual basis. In the words of Jesus, that answer is, "Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, with all thy heart, and thy neighbor as thyself."

That formula would obviate the use of bungling statesmen. Its use would force the turning of swords into plowshares and spears into pruning hooks. Its adoption would bring that which men claim so ardently to desire, the reign of universal and unending peace upon this war-scarred planet.

But until men throughout the world begin to adopt that principle in their own hearts and lives, the world may as well prepare for more and more international conflicts. We may well plan for more and more torn bodies and more and more white crosses.

We never can keep faith with those who sleep in Flanders until we substitute a greater spiritual development for our constant striving for material gain. And until the world has learned that lesson the observance of November 11 will be a meaningless and empty gesture.

Great in Defeat

No alibis were offered either by team members or the coaching staff for last Friday night's crushing defeat of the Pied Pipers.

The Pipers, playing far above expectations of Hamlin fans throughout the season, have turned in a great performance during their schedule. They have won many games they were slated to lose, and now that they have lost a game that many expected them to win, the local lads still have a great ball club.

Friday's game will tell the tale for the year. Whether Hamlin will be tied for second place or will outplay the highly-rated Rotan Yellowhammers to grab off a final chance at first place will not be answered until the end of the game.

But, win, lose or draw, the Pipers have played superb football in 1949 and have brought honor to their school and their home town. No matter what the final record will be, no whim of fate can now alter the fact that Hamlin has a great team.

A Cure-All Cures Nothing

Action Against A&P Store Is Called Jealousy on Part of Big Bureaucrats

By George Peck

The alleged anti-trust suit of the Department of Justice against the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company has stirred up a hornet's nest. At this writing it looks as though it is the D. of J. that is going to get it.

This suit is just one more evidence of how badly the Administration is misinterpreting the temper of the electorate. As the nation's largest grocery chain, the A&P seemed to the illogical bureaucratic mind a logical organization to attack—a piece of strategy that would pay off. Rep. Patman charges that A&P will have to raise prices to its customers to recoup the cost of its defense advertisements. That, according to the Congressman, would be bad, but according to the Congressman, would be bad, but according to the D. of J. that should make everything hotsy-totsy as far as A&P, its competitors and its customers are concerned.

This leads me to inquire, just what is behind this suit against the A&P? Has the green-eyed monster fastened its clutch on our Federal Government? Yes, it could be a bad case of jealousy jitters on the part of a big and powerful bureaucracy, apprehensive of anything and everything that assumes sizable proportions. Jealousy we now, engenders irrational behavior, and there seems to be nothing rational in this Government action against the A&P.

Could Be Done

Joe—"Well, it looks like they'll convict that guy accused of murdering his wife. He'll probably hang for it soon."

Pete—"Don't be silly. They don't hang murderers in this state."

Joe—"No? What do they do, then?"

Pete—"They kill them by elocution."

NEW FLAME

Widower had engraved on his wife's tombstone the words, "The light of my life has gone out."

A little later he married again, and one Sunday was standing with No. 2 before his first wife's grave. Reading the above sentiment, the lady inquired in a rather huffed tone, "Is that so?"

"Yes," replied he, "but I've struck another match!"

Naughty Willie.

Mother. "Stop using those bad words."

Son: "Shakespeare uses them."

Mother: "Well, don't play with him any more."

Hidden and Open Taxes Costing Each American 61 Days of Work Each Year

By DeWITT EMERY

The American Institute of Public Opinion recently reported that one of the chief "areas of ignorance" among the American people is their failure to realize the high portion of their personal incomes which are taken by hidden taxes. Former President Herbert Hoover, in his 75th Birthday Address, spelled out for the American people their grossly excessive tax burden in a way that no one could possibly misunderstand. He put it this way, "Out of the 235 working days in the year the average American citizen works 61 days to pay his taxes.

Stop for a minute and figure out what this means to you. Multiply your daily wage or salary by sixty-one and that's what the government is taking out of your pocket as your share of the taxes it collects each year. If you make ten dollars a day your tax bill is over fifty dollars a month. Keep that in mind the next time you hear an office-holder telling all of the things he has done for the American people.

Mr. Hoover also pointed out in his birthday speech that there are enough new spending projects under consideration by the Federal Government to take at least twenty more days' pay a year away from every employed person in the nation.

The fact that you cannot see the amount of tax you pay every time you make a purchase does not mean that you are not being taxed. In fact, because the bulk of your taxes are well concealed—hidden—is what enables the tax-spenders to get away with throwing your money to the four winds all over the world.

The Illinois Federation of Retail

Associations reported to its members that there are 126 hidden taxes in a pair of shoes, 78 hidden taxes in a quart of milk, 154 hidden taxes in a cake of soap, 63 hidden taxes in a milady's coat and 47 in her dress, 201 in a gallon of gasoline, 142 in the farmer's plow, 53 in your hat, 148 in a pair of overalls, etc., on through a long list.

Yet, in the face of this excessive taxation our Federal Government is operating in the red. In the three months ending September 30th, the deficit was $1,211,440,000. These were three mighty prosperous months with tax receipts of $9,257,648,000, representing a near-record peacetime tax collection, being an increase in $113,819,000 over the corresponding month of the preceding year. So the deficit was not caused by a falling off in revenue but rather by a new mad wave of bureaucratic spending.

Where did all this extra spending money go? The largest single item if increased spending went to crop supports which jumped in the quarter ending September 30th, from $75,272,000 last year, to $616,198,000 this year. This is the amount added to your food bill for three months in addition to the high price you paid for the food itself. Maybe Federal spending and high taxes don't mean anything to you personally; then maybe again they do.

One thing you can be sure of is that these back-breaking taxes and this grossly excessive spending will go on just as long as the "dumb taxpayers" will pay the bill. Every politician likes patronage, and the more there is to spend the patronage there is to dis. That's the way it is, and that way it will be until the American people start yelling at the their lungs for economy. There are more votes to be by economy than by spending expenditures will melt away snowball in that well-known place.

It's just that simple, Mr. America. If you want lower taxes and want to spend more of your own money for clothes, furniture, better, food, better housing, etc., start yelling and eep it up. It's your government and you have it in your power to have good or bad, wasteful or economical government. It's yours to choose.

I repeat "How dumb can we get?"

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I have an unused certificate of eligibility which I obtained from VA about a year ago. May I use it to enter a school under the GI Bill this coming January, even though I understand VA is issuing new types of certificates?

A—Yes. But before you use your certificate, check with your VA regional office to make certain the school and course are those you are permitted to enroll in under the law.

Q—How much can I borrow on my converted National Service Life Insurance policy which has been in force under the permanent plan for a little over a year?

A—You may borrow up to 94 percent of the cash value of your insurance and still eep it in force. Loan application forms may be secured from your VA office.

Q—I am taking vocational training under Public Law 16 for disabled veterans and find it difficult to progress as rapidly as others taking the same course. What happens if I fail my course?

A—Generally, VA will take special steps to enter you in another course in which there is every likelihood you will complete successfully. The situation depends on the facts and the circumstances of your case.

November 11, 1918 is a date that looms large in history . . . for it was then that the "war to end all wars" came to a close. It was then that mankind, sick of slaughter and weary of warfare, made the first worldwide effort to remove this burden from the backs of future generations.

That effort failed, and ere the scars of that war had healed, the world was plunged into a holocaust far more costly in human life and human suffering. Now, once again, the nations of the world are seeking to remove the menace of wars. Once again there is a united effort to achieve universal peace.

But that effort, too, may fail unless those of us who believe in the principles of the Prince of Peace begin to put into practice the eternal truths He taught.

World peace is not entirely a matter for statesmen and heads of nations to achieve. It can come only when we, as individuals, together with the individual citizens of other nations, demand that this senseless slaughter shall cease.

And as we celebrate the anniversary of the Armistice, let each of us dedicate anew our efforts to the end that "nations shall know wars no more . . ." and that ". . . they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks."

Two From Hamlin Head Dairy Group

Two young men from Hamlin have been made supervisors of the Wichita Valley Dairy Herd Improvement Association in Wichita Falls, it was reported in a Wichita Falls newspaper last week.

The two are James E. Rodgers, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Rodgers, and Bob Miles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miles, formerly of Hamlin.

Miles has been supervisor in charge of the herds for several months, and Rodgers was appointed only recently following a special course offered by Texas A&M College. Rodgers is said to have made the highest average in his class.

Purpose of the group is to improve dairying in the Wichita Falls area.

Dime Price Is Set
For Coffee in Cafes

Hamlin coffee drinkers were greeted with signs in some cafes here Monday morning with a 100 per cent increase in the price of their favorite beverage.

The price increase resulted from heavy increases in the price of ground coffee at all local stores. A short crop of coffee in South America is blamed for the heavy jump of coffee prices.

However, not all coffee bars were selling java at the new price, and as late as Thursday morning it was still possible to get a cup for a nickel.

What a wonderful
bargain!Mrs. J. E. Brasac,
118 Greta Street, Houston, Texas

Wednesday—Mrs. M. can make my new slip covers. Only 2 blocks, but lucky I phoned before she started another job.

Thursday—Felicia, my daughter, asked my advice on new refrigerator. 12 miles to her office.

Friday—Felicia called. Some good buys advertised in morning paper.

Saturday—Evening paper wasn't delivered. Complained to circulation department. 3 miles to their office.

What else gives so much for so little?

For five days Mrs. J. E. Brasac kept an accurate record of all the telephone calls she made and received — and here's just a sample of the shopping she did and the steps she saved. Altogether, she carried on 44 telephone conversations, figures they cost her less than 2¢ each and covered a total of 183 miles.

"I don't know where you'd get a bigger 2¢ worth," she comments. "My telephone keeps me in touch with my family and friends, helps me run my household, and it's always there to call for help in an emergency. Thanks for a wonderful bargain!"

Thank you, Mrs. Brasac, for your kind words. We are working constantly on technical improvements so you can hear better, get your calls through quicker, enjoy more trouble-free service. Every year we're adding new telephones so that you can call more people, more people can call you. Our aim is to give you the best possible bargain today . . . and to keep it growing in value every year. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

A former garage operator accepted a job as principal of the country school house in the Tennessee hill country. A keen-eyed mountaineer took his overgrown son into the schoolroom and announced—"This here boy's arter larnin'. What's yore bill o' fare?"

The Old Kaye.

While his playboy aspirations burned, the fleet superintendent found that his pockets weren't exactly bulging with money. Something, he decided, would have to be done about that. He'd have to get a raise, that was all there was to it.

Three letters to the home office suggesting that they look with more financial favor on their Southern representative brought no reply. Finally, in desperation, the freight man sent this telegram: "If no raise is granted within two weeks, count me out."

Back came the answer: "One two three four five six seven eight nine ten."

Loan Price Set On Cotton Seed At $49.50 a Ton

A loan of $49.50 a ton will be advanced to cotton farmers for their cotton seed, Eugene C. Gainous, administrative officer of the Jones County Production and Marketing Administration, said this week.

The price has been set by the government to assure farmers of a steady market value for their cotton seed, Gainous explained.

Purchases of the seed will be made through local buyers at gins, who will pay farmers $46.50, when they desire to sell the seed.

The lower price for purchase, Gainous said, is made because it does not necessitate a storage charge. Farmers who obtain loans will be required to store the seed and the additional $3 per ton payment is to help offset that charge.

Cottonseed bought and stored under the purchase program will sold the domestic market only at prices which will cover the full cost to the government, Gainous declared.

Further information on the program may be obtained from the local Production and Marketing Administration committees.

Early Diagnosis Is Aid to Recovery For Victims of Dread Tuberculosis

Most people have at least one acquaintance who foolishly refuses to go to the doctor because he "doesn't want to hear any bad news." He won't hurt him."

That type of person fools nobody but himself. The fear that keeps him away from the doctor in the first place isn't half as bad as the constant gnawing doubt that perhaps while he stubbornly refuses to see the doctor when he isn't up to sight, there are some ill-used people who persistently avoid having their chests X-rayed because they are "afraid" the X-ray might reveal active tuberculosis.

But the chest X-ray will help to prove one of two things: either one of which will be to the distinct advantage of the person X-rayed. The X-ray probably will reveal that the person's lungs are clear, that he has no evidence of pulmonary tuberculosis. The person is then reassured of his health.

The X-ray picture of the lungs happens to show that a person has suspicious signs of tuberculosis, further tests will be made to determine whether or not the person has the disease.

Even if these additional tests prove that a person does have tuberculosis, the sick man has the satisfaction of knowing that he can begin treatment immediately, when he has the best chance of cure.

Without the X-ray, the disease might have progressed to the point where it would be much more difficult and much more costly to cure. Tuberculosis can be cured, but it's easier to cure when it is caught early.

That's why a person is fortunate who, if he has tuberculosis, discovers it in an early stage. When tuberculosis first strikes, it brings with it no obvious, apparent symptoms. But the chest X-ray makes it possible for doctors to see the lungs and detect the earliest, destructive work of tuberculosis germs.

Tuberculosis is a disease that is easily spread from person to person. The individual who gets periodic chest X-rays, therefore is protecting his family, his co-workers and his friends, as well as himself.

Every adult, whether he seems healthy or not, should get a chest X-ray at least once a year. This is his best way of being sure that he does not have the disease and is not innocently passing it on to others.

Yeah, Take It

"Sir," he began stutteringly, as he faced her father's stern gaze, "I've come to ask for your daughter's hand."

"That's all right with me, son," he replied, "just so long as you take the one that's always in my pocket."

Meow.

Two women met on the street after a long absence. Said the first: "Gracious, Dorothy, I haven't seen you for seven years. You certainly look a lot older."

"You, too, Eleanor dear. I wouldn't have recognized you except for the dress and hat."

Reason.

A man named Joe Hogbristle appeared in court to have his name legally changed. The judge nodded understandingly and asked what name he wanted to take.

"Harry Hogbristle," he replied. "I'm sick and tired of people asking 'Whataya know, Joe?'"

Farm Markets Fluctuate Widely as Prices Rise and Fall During Week

Southwest farm markets developed a mixture of higher and lower price trends during the past week, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reported.

Sorghums declined 7 cents a hundred pounds and wheat a cent a bushel. Texas white corn advanced 3 to 5 cents a bushel; yellow corn a cent, barley 1 to 2, and oats a half cent. No. 2 Texas white corn closed Monday at $1.59 to $1.61, and yellow corn $1.40 1-4 to $1.41 1-4. No. 2 yellow milo brought $2.07 to $2.12.

Feed markets markets generally had a weaker tone, but little price change was noted in southwest trade. Hay remained in slow demand at about unchanged prices. Peanuts turned firmer in improved demand.

Good demand for eggs held prices firm during the week despite increased production in the midwestern states. Dallas paid 43 to 44 cents a dozen for current receipts, and Denver 35 to 42. Fort Worth took canded mixed colors at 45 to 48. Rehandled current receipts brought 50 cents at New Orleans. Young chickens held about steady for the week. Hens weakened, as fall culling increased supplies.

Dressed meats sold mostly weak to $3 lower than last Monday at New York.

Sharly increased cattle and calf numbers at southwest markets last week contrasted with moderate decreases at midwest terminals. Cows and stocker calves lost up to 50 cents or more at Texas markets, but cows advanced at Oklahoma City. Other classes showed little change. Denver sold cattle steady to 50 cents down.

Fewer hogs arrived at southwest and midwest markets last week than the week before. Butcher hogs lost 25 cents for the week at San Antonio, 50 cents at Fort Worth, and around $1 at Oklahoma and Denver. Sows held unchanged from last Monday at Texas markets, but lost 50 cents to $1.50 at Oklahoma City and Denver. Stocker and feeder pigs declined about $1 at Texas and Oklahoma terminals.

Cotton closed Monday unchanged from a week ago at Houston and Abilene, 10 points higher at Dallas and New Orleans, and 30 points up

Doctor Advises Parents Follow Up Pupil Check

Schools of Texas have been in session for several weeks. Routine screening tests by teachers and nurses, or the physical examinations of the children by physicians have been completed. They are complete so far as the nurse, teacher, or examiner is concerned, but the "follow-up" to correct any abnormal conditions disclosed is yet to be done. To make these screening tests and the follow-up examinations of the greatest value, the needed care for correction of defects should be available. This is the responsibility of the parents of each child in order that a maximum of health may be his lot. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, declared.

Health is a cardinal attribute to living. With the best of health a child may have, he will do his best work, will have joy in play, and will grow to be the most efficient citizen he is capable of being. The future of our country is in the hands of these children who are now in school.

Information against the diseases, for which known protection is available, should be given all children unless their physician finds contraindication.

Letters From Readers

Hamlin, Texas
November 8, 1949

To the Editor:

Who is to blame for the high prices of boll weevils? I say the cotton producers. In my way of thinking the farmers have gone haywire. The wheat and cotton farmers are both alike, each wants his crop gathered in two weeks if possible, and if he doesn't get somebody to gather his crop, up goes the price. And it doesn't make any difference with most of them who this somebody is or where he comes from, Mexico or South Africa. Please don't misunderstand me for each person whether white or black or brown, race or creed have a right to earn an honest living.

You know I mean it's these transient comers and goers that come and stay through the best then they are gone and take what they make with them. Most of you may think this is none of my business but Mr. Wheat and Cotton farmers, businessmen and bankers, if conditions like we had through the wheat harvest and now we are in the cotton harvest and conditions are as bad or worse. I believe half or more that is paid out to gather these crops has left and is leaving here each week.

Some of the cotton farmers are getting bollie machines and lots of others say they are going to get them. Mr. Cotton farmer, businessmen and bankers, just think if each cotton farmer throughout West Texas had a bollie machine what would become of the poor class of people? Do you want a bread line in each town? If not you better think, what about home people that live here that spend what they get each day and week throughout the year.

In fact, what about humanity anyway? And the live and let live To live and let live is a good thing to think about. So let us think respectfully, your friend,

Albert Moore,
Hamlin, Texas
